In my MySQL database I have a table called Polls and another one called PollQuestion I want to delete a vote in the table Polls for a specific poll from the table PollQuestion. PollQuestion has the pollId as a foreign key in it. I have tried delete from polls where pollId = (select pollId from pollQuestion where pollId = (SELECT LAST_INSERT_ID())); and delete from polls where pollId = (select pollId from pollQuestion) but MySQL doesn't allow me to mix where and select. How can I get the value of the last inserted row in the table in a variable and put it in a query? A: You can do it in two ways: 1) Delete rows where you have pollId from PollQuestion with inner join. This will delete correct row from Polls with join: delete polls from polls p inner join pollquestion q on q.pollId = p.pollId where q.pollId = (SELECT LAST_INSERT_ID()); 2) Delete rows where you have pollId from

PollQuestion with inner join and then delete that exact row: delete polls from polls p inner join pollquestion q on q.pollId = p.pollId where q.pollId = (SELECT pollId from pollquestion)
