CloudVision Technology's Labs CloudVision Technology is an enterprise mobility management software company and CloudVision Technology is the newest addition to the CloudVision Technology Labs. Our flagship product CloudVision Enterprise Mobility Management Suite is customized for the enterprise market while CloudVision Technologies Labs is for the public sector. Come in and see us! I have a small lab and one wireless/wireless gateway, one switch, and one computer which is managed through my trusted Enterprise Mobility Management platform. [b]Time to test out my new VSI Flare network discovery test tool and see which computer models have the proper firmware for WLAN connections. Did I mention the lab is in a remote corner of my home?[/b]

In an attempt to reduce the amount of clutter in the network when I have all of my devices/access points/controller stations being discovered as WLANs, I wrote some code to traverse the network, and "listen" for the SSIDs of the discovered wireless APs as they are sent by the WPAN controller. After the first WLAN address is determined, it is added

What's New in the?

- Its main features are the same as the other 2xIRC. - Very simple to setup. - Excellent documentation. - Designed specifically for LAN based (Internet == Local). - You can assign icons to users (or groups) to differentiate them. Requirements: - Win98, Me or any other computer. - You have to have a static IP address. - Have an Internet Connection. - Internet Explorer, Mozilla, Netscape should be installed. Users can be separated in different groups and messages can be sent to all of them. You can block specific users with its own color. You can manage your skin colors with the interface. When logging in, the colors of the user that you have previously assigned to your own skin color, will be displayed. It supports IP Display. You can do Remote administration on your LAN. You can also set up your computer to automatically move to an external IP when it disconnects from the Internet. You can use it on different computers at the same time. You can assign a user to a room. It is very easy to setup and it doesn't require any installation. Win XChat (Free) Xeo Chat is not so difficult to setup as XChat (free) but the problem is it don't handle networks hopping very well. In case XChat (free) you are not connected to the Internet you can still connect to another XChat server in the same network. With Xeo Chat you have to setup the LAN channel (that is Xeo Chat's LAN channel) with the help of the netcat utility, and then to use the "G" command (advanced configuration). So this is an example: - PC1 --> Xeo Chat --> Xchat (free) --> Network Channel - PC2 --> Xeo Chat --> Xchat (free) --> Network Channel This way you can connect to Xchat server in the same network without any configuration. Demo, Features and Requirements: - Check the "README.TXT" file for more information. Demo: Requirements: - Win98, Me or any other computer. - Internet Connection. - Internet Explorer, Mozilla, Netscape should be installed. Users can be separated in different groups and messages can be sent to all of
