We are highly experienced in design, programming and marketing. Download can be bought for the program or the software. The software manual will give you more detail and instructions on how to use the software. Users should be aware that some items, primarily video games, require a constant connection to the internet. Any kind of problem with internet connection can lead to serious errors in the use of the software. So you should be careful when using the internet connection, because the Internet connection is not free. It may cost money. The Softpedia Support will not reimburse the cost of the lost sale. The Softpedia Support cannot intervene on products that were downloaded before the access to our support facilities began. Users should be aware that some of the programs in the archive may carry viruses, Trojan viruses or other types of malicious software. The Softpedia Support will not be held responsible for such damages. If a software is a trial version, a user will be able to use it for a specified period of time. A trial version of the software can contain more functionality than the paid version. When the trial version expires, the user will have to pay for the full version of the software. If the user does not want to continue to use the program, the user should permanently remove the key from the program. In addition, the user will lose access to all the features of the software. The user can continue to access the program until the end of the trial period. Some programs may include additional functionality that is not available in the trial version. In such cases, the users should pay the price to access the full functionality of the product. Such additional functionality can be used for an unlimited time after the purchase of the program. Softpedia. The Softpedia Support is available for one hour per week. This is our standard support time. You can contact our support team via email, chat or phone. Softpedia Support is available from Monday to Friday from 09:00 to 20:00 UTC. Our support team members are available for technical support issues. Licenses and Payments. Licenses are downloaded via PayPal. The Softpedia Support will issue a license key to the user. When the license expires, a new license key will be sent to the user. This cycle may occur as many as eight times. The Softpedia Support will not reimburse the price of the lost sale. Softpedia Support has no connection to the programs we support.
