Q: Need help creating a WHERE clause that checks for a range of datetime I am trying to build a WHERE clause that will do the following: Get top row of rows that are in the last 30 seconds Then, do a "subquery" that will restrict that same set of rows to where the "StartDateTime" is the most recent date/time record in the table. The datetime data types used for each field are "datetime" for StartDateTime and "date" for EndDateTime. I cannot figure out the appropriate where clause to build the query. Any help would be appreciated! I am a SQL newbie. A: For a recent row you only need the most recent timestamp, and it is all you need to know about the row for the purpose of the where clause: SELECT * FROM foo WHERE StartDateTime = (SELECT MAX(StartDateTime) FROM foo) AND End 1cdb36666d
