Raised in the kingdom of Simba, Luca has no use for the rigidly ordered social customs of her new country, where everyone must follow a predictable life path. However, even a simple act such as staying out at night can get Luca into trouble when dangerous dog-headed beasts roam the streets of her city. The harsh realities of the outside world slowly tear her away from her cozy world, where no one admits to being different and a mistake is a shameful mistake. Yume Nikki is about a young woman named Nikki who awakens in a strange dream world. Since she has just awakened, she finds herself at an even stranger point in time: the year 2033. She is an accident victim. Containers of unknown substances that fell from space have spread all over the world, and these infectious substances cause dreams. As she travels through the dream world, she meets other people who are also unfortunate enough to have woken up at the same time. After that, you'll encounter many other characters that you will meet in the dream world. The events of the dream world are not a dream—they're another reality. With a multitude of dream like scenarios, it's up to you to solve them all to make your way home. Mai Shiranui Voiced by: Hiroko Konishi

Development Director: Hidetoshi Kanazawa Work on Yume Nikki was headed up by Hidetoshi Kanazawa and Keiichi Harakami, and I was in charge of the scenario. That said, Keiichi and Hiroko did have a considerable effect on how the game was shaped up. Yume Nikki is a game that is heavily inspired by both the visual and sound of Hidetoshi Kanazawa's dreams, and Hiroko Konishi's voice performs both the "dream world" narration and the protagonist. Hiroko Konishi has also done similar work in the past such as the rhythm game, Rhythm Heaven Megamix, and the game, The Nostalgia Game. Hiroko Konishi - Voice Hiroko Konishi is the primary game designer of Yume Nikki. She's also the character designer, and the main voice of Yume Nikki. A very important concept for the Yume Nikki game was to put all of the voice of the game into one single character. Due to this, only Hiroko Konishi's character was voiced, as she was the character who performed the dream world narration. Additionally, because Yume Nikki had not been completed at the time of this recording, Hiroko took on the challenge of casting the character. As a result, Hiroko was the first person to voice Mai Shiranui's character. In the end, Hiroko was able to put her previous experience as a narrator into practice, and thus was able to help in bringing Mai to life. Hiroko Konishi - Voice Mr. Kanazawa and I would hear Hiroko's voice in c9d1549cdd

What's new:

#3: Me and You I thought I'd post more from my entries in the Weaving Storyteller's Crossover Challenge, because I'm on the third month and I think that makes this the most important for me. I'm a little slower to get a post up than I should be because of depression and other things this season so I'm taking one post and also posting two separate longish stories. This is a Yuletide post, but I'm changing things up from last post, I'm writing this with the car door closed and the notebook open on the passenger seat. It's a good feeling because I'm close to finishing work on this project and the only thing keeping me from enjoying it is myself again. ✨✨✨✨ Me and You By Olivia I can remember the moment I lost you. It's a cold, winter's day and I am ready to turn the page and drag my life back from the brink of madness. I invite my cheating boyfriend into the front yard, hooking the chain up to my car. "Find a tree and use your ass to bite it, punk," I smile as I feel the cold metal of the door slam shut. "Why are you using the door again?" He's teasing, he's still smiling, I can hear his keys whizzing around on the keyswitch. He laughs, but I don't even notice the sound of his laugh because suddenly, everything is going dark. It takes a while for me to get to the ground. Everyone was telling me to stop, but I couldn't. There were too many things in my head. Reliving every moment, crying and laughing, wishing I'd said or done more. I don't even know if I realized I was bleeding. When I slowly look up, I see bright red starbursts all around me, lit by the rising sun. Sometimes I cannot tell exactly when I was hit by a bullet, there are small grey, vaguely triangular cuts all over my body. I keep telling myself that I fell, that I'm bleeding internally, but I don't know what to do with myself. As we move through the chaos, I find people, mostly the lawmen
