When you create a new file, SketchUp places an icon with a plus sign (+) on your desktop. You can see this icon in Figure 9-5. When you click this icon, you bring up the Photoshop File format options for that file. 7. Click Create New from the menu, located directly beneath the File format menu (refer to Figure 9-5.). The New File dialog box opens. 8. Select the Photoshop File Format option from the File Format menu, as shown in Figure 9-5.. This action creates a Photoshop template that can contain multiple drawings of the same image. You have now saved your design in the context of a template for later use. 9. Open your image file and drag it to the New SketchUp File dialog box (see Figure 9-6). Once you drag the image to

Big Brother (Nigerian TV series) Big Brother Nigeria is a Nigerian reality game show that aired on MTV Base from November 2013 to June 2014. The show was created by South African TV producer Endemol Shine SA, who also created Big Brother Africa and its local versions in Rwanda and South Africa. Production The project was developed by Endemol Shine SA, a global television production company with offices in South Africa, Nigeria and the United Kingdom. In February 2013, Endemol Shine launched a website where the public could watch daily video updates on Big Brother Africa 2013. Nigerian-based entertainment website Celebuzz.com reported in September 2013 that Kenyan production house Whiz Production had been commissioned to produce the series. Celebuzz reported that the show was due to begin filming in February 2014 with up to 20 contestants, and that the first show would air on October 7, 2014. That same month, Endemol Shine said that the show was on course to be on air in November, although they could not confirm that the planned date would be in November. In January 2014, some of the first teaser images leaked of the Big Brother house. Nigerian Big Brother became the first African production by Endemol Shine to include a cast of well-known celebrities, rather than face only local "ordinary" contestants in the house, as had happened in Big Brother Africa and Big Brother UK. The series was hosted by Nigerian DJ and music producer Patoranking. Endemol Shine later named Minister of Information and Culture (I&C) Aminu Tambuwal as one of four Nigerian producers to appear in the house as a "celebrity mentor". It was alleged that the Ministry of I&C and Ministry of Information and Culture were paid N12.3 million a month for their roles. This has since been denied by the ministry. Another Nigerian producer who took a role in the Big Brother house was the Radio personality Kayode Adebayo. In May 2014, three of the Nigerian celebrities who participated in the show - Ultimo, Muna and Seun Ajobade - declared to the press that the show was scripted. In an article, they said that their comments were "re-enacted" and that they were "not given the chance to speak for themselves". In response, Tambuwal said that the comments were made in response to a misunderstanding. Participants The contestants were divided into three groups: The
