An independent regulatory commission has yet to clear them of the charges of which they have been accused. On-the-pitch problems have continued to mount this season, with the Owls bottom of the Championship and losing their last two games. Wednesday are appealing against the decision to revoke their probation. This was due to take place when the current season was complete. The club have been ordered to play four competitive games behind closed doors. In a statement, the League One side said: "The club accepts that it has not discharged its responsibility to the commission and the commission has asked

Sheffield Wednesday to fulfil their commitment to the commission. "No further comment will be made until the next step of the investigation process has been finalised." Wednesday were placed on a fourmonth probation in July after an FA commission found there had been an "impropriety in the player's transfer" and "serious breaches of FA rules regarding player agents". The club have missed out on a place in the play-offs on goal difference and their fate is now in the hands of an independent regulatory commission which will assess their appeal.2009-10 Rugby Europe Shield The 2009–10 Rugby Europe
