fusion 360 with powermill ultimate implement 5-axis milling for 3-axis machining and 4-axis milling for 5-axis machining. use the available parameters to set the strategy in the tool path and define high level operations such as corner radius, removal depth, and feed rate. fusion 360 with powermill ultimate set up and simulate toolpath strategies for both milling and turning strategies. use three axis milling to machine 3-axis components, and four axis milling for 5-axis machining. the c-a-d (cad) files are all in this zip package. the files are in *.dwg format so if you have something like rhino or grasshopper you can view them there. open the file and it will open in rhinoceros or grasshopper. you must have the latest version of autodesk to view the dws properly. just download it and unzip it to a file on your computer and you can view them there as well. fusion 360 with powermill ultimate direct-drive machining systems have become a popular choice for many product manufacturers, due to their ability to run a wide range of processes at high speeds. powermill allows you to take advantage of this with the ability to machine directly in your cnc machine, rather than making use of a separate machine. (video: 2:44 min.) fusion 360 with powermill ultimate reduce tooling and part changes by using the fusion probes feature to move your gantry for each machining cycle. estimate the optimum gantry height for each job before beginning machining. configure automation curves and machine parameters to optimize every machining cycle. using fusion probes to pre-program all axis movement. accurately place your workpiece and probe a second time without having to make an actual part. (video: 2:14 min.) fusion 360 with powermill ultimate create a unique design intent and generate working drawings using the fusion software development kit (sdk). share and generate parameters for several different design intent options. (video: 2:07 min.) fusion 360 with powermill ultimate use the fusion design intelligence feature to move your robot to a precise point and position your laser relative to the workpiece. estimate the optimum laser offset from the workpiece to increase machining accuracy. (video: 1:40 min.) fusion 360 with powermill ultimate measure 3d surface geometry using the fusion probes feature. use the resulting measurements to eliminate over-travel and reduce the number of axis singularities. (video: 1:54 min.) fusion 360 with powermill ultimate monitor and manage your programmable logic controller (plc) using fusion diagnostics. record and analyze events to quickly diagnose and resolve programming and programming device problems. (video: 2:23 min.) save time and cut production costs with powermill's nc programming capabilities. the intuitive interface supports both 2d and 3d programs. the program also provides a variety of automated options to generate a powerful nc program in minutes, such as edge looping and long hole interpolation.
