December 9, 2020 - Trailer. . About this game. The United States has a military presence in two-thirds of the world's countries, and some of them have nuclear weapons. If these countries go to war, the world will be destroyed. But America is not ready for this. For five years, the United States has been intervening militarily to seize control of the region's strategic resources. But during the occupation, a secret weapon was created that turns civilians into "superhumans". This weapon is now being searched for by its creator.

Filmed back in 1999, but never featured on TV. I finished watching this series at work, and was shocked by its humor. The film was completely filmed on an amateur camera, where real events got into the frame. There is also a parody of The Irony of Fate, and KVN, and Service Romance, and much more. It is noticeable that the director tried to shoot in such a way that it was pleasant to watch, and not stupidly laugh.
