Download

The new Nembrini Audio IR Loader Impulse Response Tool Plugin for your DAW will run on Mac, PC, and iOS devices, which covers most systems. Essentially the new plugin is a suite of tools that allows guitar players and audio engineers to get a high quality guitar tone within a digital workspace. Utilising Impulse Response technology to tailor your guitar tones, you can organise your virtual cabinets, and then sculpt them with a variety of tools, all in a single application. You can also download the iLok Express if you want the software to run through a computer connected to a DAC, and don't have a computer to plug your iLok headphones into. The Express version of iLok costs $10. If you buy the App version of iLok, you need to install the hardware iLok software when downloading. It's available as a free trial through the supplier site. If you install the Mac version on a Mac computer, you can register the iLok hardware when prompted by the Mac upon bootup. iOS users can do the same with the iLok App. To get the best possible results IR Loaders should be used in conjunction with a sound editor software providing:

- A file browser for viewing files and loading them
- A plug-in for producing "impulse response" like sounds
- A plug-in for creating impulse response files

The Nembrini Audio IR Loader is perfect for:

- Musicians practicing on an electric guitar with an amp simulation
- Musicians on an acoustic guitar using an amplifier simulation
- Sound engineers preparing sound for a film or video
