
Star Wars Force Unleashed 2 !!TOP!! Crack

Subject 1098 was a clone of the Human male Datak Tarr, a privateer in the "Hindu Kush" sector of the Outer Rim Territories. Subject 1098 was raised in the first year of the Galactic Republic in a medical lab, and within a year of his birth, he was replicated. The clone was grown in a tank and showed intelligence and Force potential after a breach in security during his growth acceleration. [10] Subject 1098 was later used to capture and subdue a Mandalorian bounty hunter named Mandalore, and though he was eventually killed in the process of subduing the Mandalorian, his Force potential grew as he died. In his last moments, he asked the Jedi, present at the scene, to not cut him down and to leave the Mandalorian alone. Ezra and Corso were former Mandalorian soldiers, who met at the Jedi academy on the planet Kamino during the clone wars. The two became close friends and drank a lot. The Kaminoans using the Kaminoans grew tired of the clones' disrespectful behavior and mistreatment of their clones, and subjected them to horrific experiments. Their friendship was tested when Ezra, then a Padawan, went to be a Jedi Knight, and Corso felt that he should go instead. Before departing, Ezra gave Corso a letter of introduction to the Jedi Council, but Corso never delivered it. The Kaminoans were not willing to risk releasing the Experiment series. When they found the Kaminoans had designed a clone of their leader Shmi Skywalker (the mother of Anakin Skywalker), they were furious and killed all of the laboratory staff. When Ezra returned a year later, he found out that Corso was on Kamino and went to find him. Ezra and Corso eventually made their peace, and Corso left to serve as a Jedi Knight. The two were killed in a sword duel in the Temple courtyard.
