I'm in the process of downloading the gundam century patch. The download is taking a long time, but the download process is completed. I have downloaded the patch on my ubuntu 12.04. As I restarted my computer the game could not be loaded. Could anybody help me? I want to play my game and I dont wanna lose a lot of money. Thanks a lot The last version I had installed on my computer was a patch to Brood War back in 2004. I purchased the Game of the Year Edition several months ago. As I remember, I used to be able to access game save files from this patch without having to download the game again. I haven't been able to access my saved games from the Game of the Year Edition or the Brood War patch from the moment I installed the Game of the Year Edition. I have a few save games, or at least I think so. Do you know what the problem is and how I can get my old save files This may very well be the easiest way to download the file. Copy and paste this URL into your browser. It is absolutely FREE

Indeed, once you download the file, it can be installed onto any Warcraft 3 version that you have installed. So if you have Warcraft 3 Classic, and you download the file, the game file will install itself into your Warcraft 3 folder and you should be good to go. To uninstall the mod, simply delete the directory from your Warcraft 3 directory once you are done installing the files. To install the Game of the Year Edition, first you should have StarCraft2 installed, but if you don't, then just download the installation executable off the Battle.net mainpage.
