he was so happy, he was surprised when he was hit so hard he couldn't continue, the pain was so bad, the doctors thought he had a fractured skull, he had a dentist work on the tooth, but it still hurt so bad he couldnt eat. they sent him home. when levinsky got home, they found that he had fractured his jaw. he wouldn't leave the apartment until his jaw healed. the fracture was so bad, his teeth were laid open. after months of rest and treatment, levinsky could finally fight again, the dentists put him in an icebox, he claimed that cold would help his jaw heal faster. just as he feared, levinsky lost his title to dillon. dont know what happened. i got hit in the jaw. when i got hit, it was like a car hit me. the doctor told me to just lay there, and that i would be ok. he said i might have a fractured jaw. i didnt think so at first, but when i walked down the street, i felt like i was in pain. i couldnt speak, i couldnt eat. the dentist gave me an x-ray and told me to take it easy. he said he couldnt fix it. i wasnt too upset because i could fight again. i thought i would. i started walking up the street, and i was feeling pretty good. i was thinking i would fight jack dillon again. i had the title. he wasnt going to hold it against me. then i got in my car and the pain came back, i had some people pull me out of the car, the dentist saw me and said my jaw was broken. i was shocked. he put some stuff in my mouth. then he put me in a body bag and took me to the hospital. i was in pain. when i got to the hospital, they put me in a room. they strapped my jaw together, and took an xray. i got out of the hospital the next day. when i went home, my wife told me i had a broken jaw. i couldnt eat for two weeks. i couldnt train. i couldnt do anything. i just sat around. my wife brought me some ice, and i started eating and drinking. after two weeks, my jaw was stillnt healed. the dentist put me in an ice box. i thought it would help. i lay in the ice box for a month. i couldnt eat, i couldnt train, after the ice box, i had to wear a medical jacket. i was told that my jaw wouldnt heal, and i would be in pain until i was 32. i was in pain until i was 45. i felt like i wouldnt be able to do anything, i couldnt eat, when i could train again, i was out of shape. i went to a weight room with two other fighters and tried to train. i felt like i would never fight again. the doctors told me i should quit.

9. henry armstrong: the great philly boxer of the mid-century, armstrong was another philly legend who spent his career as a world-class welterweight. he beat a long list of greats, including world champions ike williams and kid gavilan, champion napolean peyrone, and sugar ray robinson in a career that spanned more than a decade. he was philly boxing royalty during his prime. 10. james j. corbett: corbett was a great philadelphia boxer. he was philly's first world champion, and he held the welterweight crown for almost two years in the late 1890s. he also was a great athlete, and he was one of the best quarterbacks in philadelphia sports history. he went on to play for the nfl's new york giants and the nfl's chicago cardinals. following his retirement he became a boxing manager and promoter. this is the man who gave philly boxing fans two of its best fightersthe philadelphia flash and the dutch destroyer. chuck wepner was a boxing legend for a generation. wepners career included a title shot at the heavyweight title against sonny liston, a defeat he avenged with a ko of the formidable challenger. wepner became a folk hero, and the most famous pennsylvanian of all time, his name even entered the common vernacular. wepners skill and sheer nerve in fighting remained his trademark as a boxer. he fought at a time when boxing was controlled by its promoters and the vagaries of the game, and as a result, he would fight in many different weight classes, with most of his title bouts taking place in other states. he became the heavyweight champion of the world in 1962, defeating the famous champion sonny liston. he lost the title in his first defense, and he would fight for it just once more. his career ended in a grisly and devastating fight against a young leon spinks, in which chuck was knocked out with a flurry of punches in the 12th round. wepner then returned home to philadelphia and lived a short and unhappy life, battling alcoholism and cancer. 5ec8ef588b
