IPhoneBrowser [Win/Mac]

iPhoneBrowser is a simple-to-use software application that allows you to manage files on your iPhone, by providing you with a familiar environment. It can be handled by all types of users, regardless of their experience level. Once the quick setup procedure is done, the iPhone's folder structure is automatically displayed upon deployment, as long as the device is connected to the computer. So, you can use the Explorer-based layout and navigate through the folders, as well as check out the name, size and type of each file. But you may also preview files as well as enable automatic previewing mode. It is possible to view and clean up backup files, save the SummerBoard themes to a folder or as a PXL package, convert PNG images, as well as select the picture background (black, gray or white). Furthermore, you may jump to a specific folder location, such as Ringtones, UI Sounds, SummerBoard or WinterBoard themes, Fonts and third-party apps (e.g. Customize Files, EBooks), as well as create and manage a favorites list. Files can be backed up, restored, deleted, renamed or replaced. The simple program runs on a low-to-moderate amount of system memory and CPU, so it shouldn't burden the computer's performance. No error dialogs have been shown in our tests and the app did not hang or crash. On the downside, iPhoneBrowser has not been updated for a pretty long time and could definitely use some improvements. iPhoneBrowser Screenshots: iPhoneBrowser Comments I would like to... Rating: 1 Download and play Saturday, August 19, 2012 First of all, if you want a desktop version of iFile to access iPhone files in Finder, iPhoneBrowser is not for you. You can also download iFile from the Mac App Store (paid) or download it via the iTunes software (free). The one-step process to launch iPhoneBrowser is: 1. Connect your iPhone to your Mac and wait a few seconds until the app starts. 2. The app automatically opens, with the iTunes/Music/Videos/Downloads folder in the top panel. 3. Navigate through the folders by using the top panel and perform the usual tasks, such as moving and creating files. It is important to mention that the "iTunes/Music/Videos/Downloads" folder is open by default,

Reduced utilization of self-reports during physician-patient interactions: a pilot study. A panel of 15 telephone interviews was conducted with patients who sought primary care at a university-based practice. Demographic and medical information was gathered by the staff nurse. Patients were then interviewed with respect to their experience of visiting the clinic. For a subset of these interviews, the nurse's reflection on the visit was also included. The purpose of this paper is to evaluate the methodological approaches that can be used to collect self-report data that can be corroborated with narrative reflection by nurses. The study showed that the patients' self-reports were reliable for certain basic demographic information, especially about the occurrence of certain

Should you want to perform advanced operations on your iPhone's files, only the third-party applications like File Doctor or iFiles can really handle the task. While both applications have many features, we'd recommend using File Doctor, as it features an Explorer-like interface and can manage files, pictures and folders. It also allows you to access them on your computer, so you can quickly preview and organize them. File Doctor

Description: File Doctor is a freeware application that allows you to perform advanced operations on your iPhone's files, such as copying, moving, deleting and renaming them. Furthermore, you can see details on the files, e.g. their size, type, name and date. Also, this app allows you to handle music, movie, image, game and application files, as well as those on external storage devices. If you're not sure what to do with a file, you can quickly preview and send it via email. Besides, you can browse the file's information (such as its size, name and date) directly on your iPhone, without having to copy the file. The app supports all types of iPhone files and is updated regularly. File Doctor has no installation size and no need
