Company Help How AppCodes Works Once you purchase an AppCode, you get access to all the software and data files in our marketplace and everything included in the product is yours to keep forever. The AppCode is available to you as a PDF or Zip file. You can always download the file and use it on multiple devices, transfer it to your computer and use it there, and also use the file to backup data on an external drive. The only way you can lose access to your AppCode is if you decide to delete it on your device. Your AppCode, just like other purchased files, will appear on your home screen after you download it. AppCode has 2 default Apps: Save App: Save App is an App that works in conjunction with other products from Town and City. If you install a number of products from Town and City on your phone, then you can use Save App to quickly and easily save everything to the cloud and open it on any computer you use. You can create, edit and save Data in.CSV files, and then simply sync the files between the two devices. You can also use this App to back up Data, or automatically open an App on your PC. This App is ideal for travelers who want to save all of their travel information on the cloud. Open App: This App gives you the ability to open Files (e.g. Data, Apps,.CSV files) from the cloud on your phone. You can also open an App from your PC if it is installed on your device. You can easily get and use your AppCode just like other software in our Marketplace.The Pumas have not yet revealed their new uniform but they have unveiled a couple of new sponsor brands. The first, which they have done at all of their away games so far, is a custom version of their existing Nike brand (the newest take on this being the one used at the recent tour of Wales). They also have a new 'NZL' mark, which I am guessing to be the logo of the new body, with New Zealand playing a part of the Pumas' ad. I'm only guessing at the NZ
