No. 09/745,400, filed Dec. 22, 2001, which claims priority to U.S. Provisional Patent Application No. 60/274,837, filed Jan. 24, 2001, all of which are entitled "GEOMETRICALLY ORIENTED SURFACES AND METHODS OF MAKING SAME." Each of the foregoing U.S. patent applications filed by the same inventor sets forth a method of fabricating a patterned mask and a method of fabricating a patterned mask in combination with a reticle plate. The present invention relates to patterned masks and, more particularly, to patterned masks and methods for making same. The term "mask" is used in reference to any planar structure including a silicon substrate and components located on the surface thereof that are in contact with a semiconductor material layer on the substrate and that may be used to selectively expose and/or expose portions of that semiconductor material layer. The patterned masks of the present invention are particularly useful in conjunction with integrated circuits having multiple layers of different materials formed thereon. Silicon-on-insulator (SOI) is the predominant technique used to create high performance integrated 79a2804d6b
